WAR ON MOSQUITOES

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH WILL FIGHT THE PESKY THINGS.

Ponds Near Noblesville Will Be Treated with Kerosene—Spread Contagious Diseases.

A crusade against mosquitoes has been started by the State Board of Health. Mosquitoes are germ carriers and disease spreaders, says Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the board, and where they exist in unusually large numbers the board is going to take every means to exterminate them.

The first place this mosquito crusade will strike is Noblesville, Hamilton county. The board, yesterday, at its regular monthly meeting, issued an order that the three ponds fermenting strawboard matter near Noblesville be covered with crude kerosene oil to kill the millions of mosquitoes that live on the decayed strawboard matter. If the order is not carried out at once the board will take steps to force the strawboard manufacturers to cover these ponds with crude kerosene oil.

"It has been proven conclusively that mosquitoes carry germs," says Dr. Hurty, "and there are cases on record where mosquitoes have been the cause of the spread of contagious diseases. There is not the least doubt but that mosquitoes carry germs—typhoid germs, for example. The people who live in the vicinity of these ponds of fermenting strawboard matter near Noblesville are in danger from the mosquitoes. There are millions of mosquitoes on these ponds. They must be killed as a sanitary measure."

Besides this action in regard to the strawboard ponds at Noblesville, Dr. Hurty gave out at the conclusion of the board's all-day session that nothing but routine business was transacted.

TRIP THROUGH STONE BELT.

It Will Be Made Next Week by the Indiana Fair Commission.

Following their monthly meeting Tuesday at the Statehouse the Indiana Fair Commission and Assistant Secretary Alexander will make a two days' trip through the stone quarries of Monroe and Lawrence counties next Wednesday and Thursday. The party will make the trip in a special train over the Monon route as the guests of President McComb. The trip will be made with the view of Indiana having an exhibit of its building stone at the St. Louis fair.

The party will leave the Union Station Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for Bloomington, where they will be entertained by lunch by the Bloomington Commercial Club. Thursday morning the party will be examined and the party will proceed to Lawrence, where they will spend Wednesday night. Thursday morning the party will be examined and the party will proceed to Lawrence, where they will spend Wednesday night. Thursday morning the party will be examined and the party will proceed to Lawrence, where they will spend Wednesday night.

PROMISING OIL LAND.

Indianapolis Men Secure Leases on Hendricks County Property.

J. B. Foster and A. F. Fearnbaugh, of Indianapolis, backed by Pittsburg capital, have leased 4,000 acres of gas and oil land in Hendricks county, fifteen miles out from this city. The new territory has great promise of being a rich field. Mr. Foster says. The land will be thoroughly tested during the next few weeks.

If the field proves rich in gas and oil it will be a rich find for Indianapolis, says Mr. Foster, and this city will then not need to worry about failure of its gas supply for many years. The attention of Messrs. Foster and Fearnbaugh has been attracted to the Hendricks county land as an oil and gas field during the Cleveland-Harrison campaign. An earthquake at that time disclosed the land just purchased by the Indianapolis prospectors to contain both oil and gas.

At Fair Bank To-Night.

The engagement of Miss Mabel Hudson and Mr. Cunningham will close with the concert to-night at Fair Bank. These two singers have pleased large crowds this afternoon. The last of the three programs for to-day promise to entertain the crowds.

TWO MODEST GENTLEMEN

MCCULLOUGH AND HOLTZMAN TOOT
THEIR OWN HORNS.

Each Thinks a Civic Millenium
Would Come with His Election to Power—Two Meetings.

The adherents of James E. McCullough and John W. Holtzman, Democratic candidates for the mayoralty nomination, held meetings last night, at which the praises of their favorites were sounded. The attendance at both meetings was small on account of the excessive heat, it was earnestly stated. The McCullough meeting was held in Haughville, and the friends of Holtzman met at Cook's Hall in West Indianapolis.

Andrew M. Sweeney was the first speaker at the Haughville meeting. He advocated the nomination of McCullough, saying he is an honorable and upright man. Mr. McCullough is the father of the city charter, said he, and is perhaps better qualified to administer the affairs of the city of Indianapolis than any other man.

Mr. McCullough followed in a few brief remarks. "The office of mayor of this city is a most important one," said he. "It is an office that the people should be careful in filling. If nominated and elected, I shall give you a clean, honest city and I will see that the people who pay taxes get the benefit of it, and I will make it my business to see that the city government is free from graft or taint of graft. I am proud of the fact that many Republicans have said they would vote for me, and I am glad a number of them are willing to try me. We would like to go back to the time when we had a few victories so that we might lead courage to the battle that is to come in 1904. It is true that all over the State the Democrats are anxious to see what we will do in Indianapolis this fall. The question of honest municipal government has become a most important one all over the country. If you try me I promise that I shall return the favor by endeavoring to give you an honest and efficient city government."

Andrew J. Bruner introduced Henry N. Spain, who spoke in behalf of McCullough's candidacy. "You have seen and heard Mr. McCullough, and that is what we are here for," said he. "There are four Democratic candidates who can carry the most Republican votes, and McCullough is that man. He has always been a Democrat and has always been fighting the battles of Democracy," said he. "He has been before the public much and has walked in the sunlight of public opinion in the Legislature, and is a strong, upright and intelligent man. We want to take this beautiful city of Indianapolis out of the hands of grafters, and the way to do it is to elect a man who has a clear record, a good Democrat and an honest man, that is the man to take it out. We are proud of Indianapolis, and from all the walks of life we want the city to go to where they will do the best good. There is no reason why Indianapolis should not be well governed, and it ought to be as successfully as any factory or institution in the city. We want a man who will put behind him all dishonesty, be a mayor of the whole city, not of any clique or gang."

John W. Folger, Democratic candidate for city clerk, followed with a few remarks. At the meeting in Cook's Hall in West Indianapolis Mr. Holtzman advocated fairness in the letting of all city contracts, that the taxpayers should have a fair return for their money and for strict enforcement of the law. Other speakers were Edward W. Little, M. A. Ryan and Judge M. F. Cox.

THERE WILL BE NO STRIKE

STONE CUTTERS VOTE TO ADHERE TO THEIR AGREEMENT.

Men Declare that Planting Machines
Should Be Run Eight Hours a Day Instead of Ten.

At a meeting of the local union of the Journeymen Stonecutters of North America, held in their hall, 364 East Washington street, last night, a decision was reached whereby no strike will be launched by the stonecutters of this city against the planter operators—at least until after the expiration of the contract which the former have with the employers. The complaint the stonecutters had was against the long hours the planter operators work their plants, thereby cutting down the demand for stonecutters. One plan can do the work of eight men, and when it is run ten hours a day it lessens to a great extent the work that the stonecutters otherwise would get. The demand which the stonecutters anticipated making, and will make when their contract expires, is that the workday of the planter men be curtailed to equal their own working day of eight hours. The matter was discussed last night at length and it was decided to defer a settlement until the beginning of next year, when they will not be violating their agreement by calling a strike.

At the annual convention of the Journeymen Stonecutters of North America, held in Chicago last December, a movement was started toward longer working days of the planter men. It is being carried on by the stonecutters of this city. However, in Indianapolis at the present time the demand for stonecutters is being met by the planter men. There are only seven planter men employed in the city, and about forty stonecutters. The men recognize that if a strike were called here in the city it would probably result in the planter men being employed by the State, and as their employment is demanded just at this time in other parts of the State, they prefer to postpone the settlement of the matter to a more propitious time. The fact that they are also making agreements with their employers, and have something to do with the action decided upon last night.

Henry Bennell, president of the local stonecutters' union, said last night: "The only complaint we have is against the lack of work. We are in a position where we are depriving us of employment. We are running ten and twelve hours a day, we work only eight. At present the demand for us is good here in the city, and we have had demands from Bedford, where we have had a let-up in business, and in the event of a let-up in business we would have to go to Bedford for work. There will be no strike, however, and we will not attempt to settle the matter until the first of the year."

WILL NEVER DO IT AGAIN.

Two Boys Who Experimented with Whisky Have Had Enough.

Two small boys were found lying in a drunken stupor on the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Vermont street yesterday morning and passersby who were unable to awaken the lads notified the police station. Bicyclists Duncan and Askins were sent out to take charge of the boys.

On arriving at the corner they found fourteen-year-old George Taylor and twelve-year-old Harry Bell, who live in the Oxford family, unconscious from the effects of the whisky they had consumed. The boys were taken to their homes and explained to the police that they had found a bottle of liquor on the street and the last thing they remembered was drinking it. They were given a talking to by the officers of the law and were told that if they were ever again found in such a condition they would be locked up at the police station.

BOTH BOYS PROMISED NEVER TO DRINK ANOTHER DROP OF LIQUOR IN THEIR LIVES.

BABY IN AN INCUBATOR.

Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Hanging to Life by a Thread.

The three-pound, two-days-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, of No. 223 East Tenth street, lies in an incubator, hanging to life by the merest thread. The mother gave birth to twins, both girls, one of whom lived but three hours. Dr. William Best advised the use of an incubator for the other infant, which showed little vitality. The temperature is kept at about 90 degrees and the baby is fed by means of tubes through the top of the incubator.

SITE OF GIRLS' SCHOOL

TRACT ON CRAWFORDVILLE ROAD
FAVORED BY COMMISSION.

Governor Durbin and Members Will Visit Other Properties Before Decision Is Made.

The site for the new Industrial School for Girls was not chosen yesterday as a result of the trip of Governor Durbin and the members of the commission to a tract of land on the Crawfordville road, about eight miles out from the city. This site is favored by the commission, it is understood, more than any of the several others which are under consideration.

The Governor did not express his views upon the site inspected yesterday. He will visit three more sites—one north of Broad Ripple, one on the I. & V. Railroad a short distance out from the city, and another on the old Plainfield road—with the commissioners—before the matter is settled. The new site will be chosen next week, it was announced last night by Mr. Johnson, one of the commissioners.

"The location on the Crawfordville road, where we went to-day with the Governor, is favored more than any of the other locations being considered," said Mr. Johnson last night. "But the Governor did not tell us what he thought of this location. He told us he would go with us to see two or three of the other locations before he makes his decision. The site will be chosen next week, if our present plans with the Governor are carried out."

LIFE'S GLOOMY ENDING

JACOB REIFFEL KILLS HIMSELF BY TAKING MORPHINE.

Once a Prosperous and Respected Citizen,
Misfortune Clouds His Career
—Brother of Martin Reiffel.

Jacob Reiffel, at one time a prosperous and much respected German citizen of the city, committed suicide yesterday by taking a quantity of morphine. He was found in his room at 128 North Alabama street at noon yesterday in a dying condition and Dr. Cunningham, of the City Dispensary, was immediately summoned. He was far beyond the aid of a doctor, however, and his condition was at first discovered, and his death was merely a matter of time, although heroic efforts were made to save his life. He left a note stating that it was his dying wish that his body be turned over to the doctors.

Reiffel was at one time engaged in the packing business in this city and was worth in the neighborhood of $100,000, but his desire for drink caused his wife to leave him and his fortune soon melted away. During the last few years he was employed as a butcher around the city market. He was of a suicidal temperament for some time, and within the last several months made two unsuccessful attempts to end his life.

Reiffel was a brother of Martin Reiffel, president of the German American National Union of this city, and until the desire for drink got the best of him was a much respected citizen.

He leaves two sons, one in New York and one in Denver, and two brothers, Martin Reiffel, of Indianapolis, and Louis Reiffel, of a Western city.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon.

PIERCE FIGHT OVER DEBT

BENJAMIN THOMAS AND NATHAN SLAUGHTER BATTER EACH OTHER.

Both Men Badly in Need of Medical Attention When They Fell Into Hands of the Police.

Benjamin Thomas, colored, 215 Toledo street, was arrested last night by Bicycle Policemen Askins and Duncan and locked up at the police station on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, and Nathan Slaughter, the man whom Thomas is said to have intended to kill, was arrested by the same police on a charge of assault and battery.

Thomas and Slaughter engaged in a pitched battle in an alley near Susquehanna and New York streets early last evening, in which Thomas struck Slaughter over the head with a hammer and shot at him with a vicious-looking revolver, while Slaughter contented himself with getting in a few well-aimed blows with a beer bottle.

The quarrel is said to have arisen from an old debt which Thomas alleged Slaughter owed him. Slaughter is a son-in-law of Thomas, and has been making his home with his wife, in the Thomas household for the last year, but, according to the statement made by his father-in-law, he never offered to pay any rent, although oftentimes requested to produce. Last night Thomas insisted that the rent be paid, and the fight resulted. Both men were badly in need of medical attention when they arrived at the police station. Slaughter's wounds were dressed by Dr. Crockett, of the City Dispensary.

LIEBER GETS HIS FRANCHISE.

Danville Grants Right of Way to New Plainfield Line.

The Town Council of Danville met last night and granted the Plainfield Electric Railway Company, of which Albert Lieber is president, the right to enter their city as far as the public square on Wayne and Marion streets. The road, when completed, will connect Indianapolis with Danville by way of Plainfield and intervening towns. Work on the grading of the right of way has already been begun westward from Plainfield. It is expected to have the line in operation by next year if possible.

TO RENOVATE STATEHOUSE.

Anderson Man Gets Contract for Varnishing and Painting.

Frank Knight, of Anderson, has been notified by W. W. Huffman, custodian of the Statehouse, that the contract had been awarded to him for varnishing and painting the interior of the Statehouse. Mr. Knight will begin his work next week and it is estimated that it will take three or four months to complete the job. It ever again be the painting of the interior woodwork and desks.

MERCURY CLIMBED TO 94

ALL HEAT RECORDS OF THE SEASON
BROKEN AT 3 O'CLOCK.

Showers Morning and Afternoon
Came as a Blessed Relief to Suffering Man and Beast.

There was hilarious scurrying on the streets yesterday about 5 o'clock, when the large drops of rain began to patter on the pavement. And when they came down in real earnest a minute later there was a general movement toward shelter. No one expected rain any more than they expected snow. The clouds from whence it came were very thin, but they managed for a few minutes to let fall enough water to wash the streets and cool the air. Even if people did raise their parasols and stop in doorways, they all wore a smile. Some of them were so glad they just let it rain on their heads as much as it pleased and took off their hats to it and let it drive over burning heads. One old merchant, who had spent the day fanning himself in the doorway of his shop, hurried forth on to the walk and, raising his face towards the heavens, let the drops patter as long as they would on his forehead. All along the street men stood in their doors and drew in long, deep breaths of the cool tonic. Although the shower lasted no longer than it takes to tell it, it was wonderful work. After the clouds had passed and the sun came out everybody thought it was cooler whether it really was or not. In fact, just after the shower, there was an intense heat about 5 o'clock. At 6 o'clock, however, the thermometer took a sudden drop and a fresh, cool breeze blew.

A VAUDEVILLE STUNT.

The weather did a vaudeville stunt yesterday, but in spite of its rollicking it broke all records. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning it had broken the 7 o'clock record of previous days, and half an hour later, just to keep "cuttin' up," it gave an intermezzo of light rain. It was very particular, though, and didn't favor every locality. The Weather Bureau was given the go-by, and a number of other parts of the city never knew it rained until they read it in the evening papers. The thermometer kept climbing higher and higher every hour until at 2 o'clock it had passed all former marks, standing at 94. It tried for over an hour to go up another notch, but failed, and at 4 o'clock settled back at 83, its former record. That was at the Weather Bureau, where the weather men are very conservative. Down on the streets, where the sun reflected the heat, it was much hotter. At 5 o'clock the thermometer in the thermometer came down from its altitudinous position.

The hottest place in the country yesterday was El Paso, Tex., where the thermometer reached 100. Southern Kansas comes second with a record of 98.

HOURLY HEAT RECORD.

The thermometer registered as follows during the day:

7 a. m.	78	2 p. m.	94
8 a. m.	79	3 p. m.	94
9 a. m.	80	4 p. m.	83
10 a. m.	84	5 p. m.	83

WAGON WON'T WEAR OUT

C. M. HETTINGER IS USING IT TO WIN A $100 BET.

Ancient Vehicle That Saved a Relative from Indian Wrath Is Used by Him on Long Trip.

On a wager of $1,000, C. M. Hettinger, of Barborton, O., is to travel from that town to St. Louis in a wagon, to make the entire journey in eleven weeks and to do it without a conveyance or asking financial help. He may accept money from persons who desire to contribute after hearing his story or seeing the act of a pair of twin dogs that were born without legs and do tricks much after the fashion of the armless man on the vaudeville stage. Mr. Hettinger is at the corner of Washington and Missouri streets, where he will camp for a couple of days while doctoring a horse that was taken sick upon reaching this city.

The story of the wagon is highly interesting. It is being made is decidedly interesting. A relative of Mr. Hettinger, Dr. Morris, when a young man, was struck with the desire to go West and seek his fortune in Ontario, Canada. Being a veterinary surgeon and a dealer in horses, he soon became a lucrative trade among the Indians and few whites that inhabited that part of the country.

This state of affairs continued for some time and all was going well until one day Dr. Morris was informed by the chief of a hostile tribe that his presence was not desired. The Indians had become jealous of the success of his horse trading and also strongly objected to the doctoring of horses. The men of the forest allowed the doctor two weeks in which to "take his things and go." He had a wagon and a pair of his fine herd of horses only three were left him. Dr. Morris could ride a horse, but he had to take care of his wife and children. A wagon must be built and it was. With the aid of the few rude tools and a stout and resolute heart he set to work and at the end of the time had made the wagon which Mr. Hettinger is making his journey in now. The entire conveyance is made of hickory and as the incident just related happened in 1885, the quality of the wood may be easily seen. It is made like a "bus and seats ten people. There are places for cooking utensils and other articles. The roof of the wagon is made of hickory bark and is in a strong and durable condition even now.

With Mr. Hettinger's wife and two children and he expects to have little trouble in covering the distance between Barborton and St. Louis in eleven weeks and thereby winning the wager.

ESCAPED FROM WORKHOUSE.

Robert Roman's Made Successful
Break for Liberty at Night Moment.

Robert Romans, who, since June 3, has been confined at the workhouse, made his escape from that institution yesterday morning and up to the present time has eluded arrest. Romans was employed in the garden of the works and at an opportune moment made a successful break for his liberty. The guards saw him as he climbed the fence which surrounds the workhouse grounds and shot at him a number of times, but without effect. The police of the city have been notified to look for the man.

ROBBED IN CEMETERY.

Albert Garrison Victim of Three Men,
Who Are Under Arrest.

Frank Richardson, Charles Haas and Frank Mullen were arrested at 4 o'clock yesterday morning by Captain Hyland and Patrolmen Blumberg and Welbel and locked up at the police station charged with highway robbery. The men early in the evening robbed Albert Garrison of a watch and chain and several dollars in money, after beating him into insensibility and dragging him into the Greenlawn Cemetery in an unconscious condition. The matter was reported to the police and a search for the robbers resulted in their being caught in the river bottoms in the rear of the cemetery. They at first denied their guilt, but later admitted the theft and produced the watch, which was in the possession of Richardson. Garrison identified the men and his timepiece at the police station yesterday morning, and in the Police Court they were bound over to the grand jury.
